Ferrari 458 HVAC panel disassembly

Getting Started

You will need a small flat screwdriver and a 2mm Torx

1) Pull the three center knobs straight and off the panel.

Use your fingers, not a tool.
They may be tight, but with a little force
you will be able to pull them off.

2) Turn panel over and remove the four small silver Torx screws

3) Carefully pull the panel apart and unclip the white wire.

The panel should now be separated as such

4) The large knobs are held on with three tabs inside the panel. Use your screwdriver to carefully pry the tabs up and out, allowing the knobs to pop free. The center of the knob will push out and separate from the panel.

5) Set the electrical board to the side. At this point you are left with all the parts in the pic minus the electrical board. You may send the panel as is and we will break it down the rest of the way.
